DIRECTOR PROFILE

Shavonnah R. Schreiber is a corporate board director and strategic advisor with more than two decades of experience helping global organizations navigate complexity, align leadership, and communicate with clarity and conviction. She brings to the boardroom a rare combination of strategic advisory depth, cross-sector operating experience, and executive communications expertise — built across Fortune 100 engagements in the aviation, energy, technology, and manufacturing industries and across geographies spanning the Americas, APAC, EMEA, and the Middle East.

As Founder and CEO of SNR Creative Advisory, a boutique firm she has grown to over $1 million in revenue, Shavonnah has served as a trusted thought partner and executive coach to senior leaders navigating high-stakes change — including dual-sided M&A, organizational transformation, and go-to-market execution. Her client portfolio includes S&P Global, Advanced Drainage Systems, Accenture, AT&T, Microsoft, and Pfizer, as well as government entities and privately held organizations.

Shavonnah is a current independent board director and active participant in nominating and governance oversight. She has served in succession planning leadership at Painters USA and is transitioning to chair of the Nominating and Governance Committee. She brings direct governance experience to questions of board composition, director succession, and organizational accountability — the work nominating committees do every day.
